PHD TITLE	GLOBAL HISTORY AND GOVERNANCE
AVAILABLE POSITIONS	3 SSM Doctoral Fellowship 1 PNRR Doctoral Fellowships (on research themes relevant for the PNRR) 1 PNRR Doctoral fellowship – Public Administration (on research themes relevant for the specific PNRR-PA subprogram)
LINES OF INVESTIGATION OF THE DOCTORAL PROGRAM	The program focuses on the comparisons, connections, and processes of globalization that have characterized different areas of the planet between the 16th and the 20th century and it does so by concentrating on the relational dimension of historical processes, legal regimes, and the organization of power; on the interconnections between economic, political, legal, cultural and social factors; and on circulation, exchange and interconnection of ideas, persons, institutions, legal cultures, political models, concepts, rights and goods on a global scale. The Ph.D. in Global History and Governance is intended for highly motivated students who have a strong educational background, multiple language skills and are eager to engage with multi and interdisciplinary approaches. Lasting four years, it includes a first year of intensive coursework attendance in Naples. 3 SSM-funded scholarships The selection will reward projects of the highest quality and feasibility, with preference given to those that insist on areas on which members of the college can offer world-class training and research preparation. These include in particular: Ideas and practices of citizenship; History of the Welfare State; History of rights; History of minorities and history of minority rights; History of migration; History of empires; States, wars and violence in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries; History of slavery and forced labor; History of historiography; The idea of Europe and its history; Europe's legal heritage and its integration; International organizations; Administrative and private law in the global sphere; Global legal pluralism; Rule of law and democracy; Public and private powers as actors in global governance; General principles and methods of dispute resolution in the global arena; Comparative federalism. 1 PNRR-funded scholarship The candidate selected for this type of fellowship will be expected to develop research on the themes of cohesion and inclusion and, in particular, on issues related to welfare, citizenship, migration and rights. 1 PNRR-PA-funded scholarship on topics related to the Public Administration Applicants wishing to participate in the selection for this type of fellowship are required to present a research project aimed at reconstructing and interpreting the historical-legal framework of reference, both national and supranational of one or more specific policy areas (by way of example, a few are listed below: migration and political asylum, welfare, citizenship, public goods management, public health, management of pandemic events, etc. etc.) with the aim of providing lawmakers useful tools for the formulation and design of public policies, as well as for reviews of their implementation and

	the introduction of innovative governance tools. The recipient of the PNRR-PA funded scholarship will develop a project in the outlined areas and carry out a period of study and research of at least six months in a department of the Italian public administration or research center chosen on the basis of the specific policy studied and a period of between 6 and 12 months of research at foreign academic institutions identified on the basis of the research topic.
PROGRAM COORDINATOR	Prof. Daniela Luigia Caglioti
RESEARCH PROJECT	Research project in Italian or English (max 3,500 words / 21,000 characters, short bibliography included), following the model available at: https://www.ssmeridionale.it/bando-di-concorso-pubblico/?categBandi=Dottorati , aimed at demonstrating the candidate's knowledge of the state of the art in the discipline and their scientific and methodological strength, and allowing verification of the candidate's scientific interests and their coherence with the research areas supported by the Ph.D. in Global History and Governance. The research project is not binding for the purposes of the subsequent choice of the dissertation's topic. The research project must also contain a review or a critical discussion of a text, such as, for example, a book or essay or a public document (minimum 500/3,000 characters-max 1,000 words/6,000 characters) that particularly inspired the applicant in her/his choice to pursue her/his studies as well as in the conception and writing of the project itself. Applicants are asked to indicate the name of one or two potential advisors chosen from among the members of the GHG scientific board.
